Background

On June 5, 2002, the Houston Astros and the makers of Minute Maid announced that they had “expanded their relationship to create a long-term marketing and community partnership.” Among other things, the agreement called for the Astros Field to be rechristened Minute Maid Park; the continuation of the Minute Maid Squeeze Play interactive kids’ area at Minute Maid Park; and a commitment “to support youth baseball programs in the Houston area.” Out of that commitment to youth came Grand Slam for Youth Baseball (“GSFYB”) a community partnership between Minute Maid and Astros In Action Foundation

Grand Slam for Youth Baseball comprises the following four components:

Sponsorship of the City of Houston Parks & Recreation Department’s Youth Baseball Program

The 2010 season marks the eighth year Grand Slam for Youth Baseball has sponsored the City of Houston Parks & Recreation Department’s free youth baseball, softball and t-ball program for youth ages 4-18. GSFYB provides all t-shirts, caps, equipment and instruction for the program. More than 5,000 Houston-area boys and girls benefit from this sponsorship each year.

Refurbishment of one youth ball field a year

Minute Maid and Astros In Action Foundation have pledged to refurbish one youth ball field each year by providing renovated field surfaces, fencing, covered dugouts, scoreboard or other needs. Employees of both organizations assist in the refurbishment efforts. In 2010, Minute Maid and Astros In Action Foundation are refurbishing two little league fields on Galveston Island that were damaged by Hurricane Ike. In addition, cash grants were made to leagues in Nacogdoches, Winnie and Lumberton whose little league fields were damaged by Hurricane Ike.

Baseball-related educational programs

In 2005, the makers of Minute Maid and Astros In Action Foundation announced the Grand Slam For Youth Baseball Scholarship Program to assist greater Houston-area high school senior boys and girls with college expenses. Since the scholarship program inception, GSFYB has given over 75 scholarships to Houston area high school seniors. Over 30 of these scholarships were first-generation recipients. In 2010, GSFYB will award 25 $ 2,500 scholarships.. A 2010 Scholarship application may be accessed on the gsfyb.com website home page.

Fund-raising opportunities for youth baseball/softball teams and leagues

Through GSFYB, Minute Maid and Astros In Action Foundation offer fund-raising opportunities to help qualified 501(c)(3) youth baseball/softball teams and leagues earn money for needed baseball/softball-related expenses. Since the program started, more than $100,000 has been donated to Houston-area teams and leagues. Qualifying teams and leagues could earn a minimum of $ 1,000 through a Minute Maid product grant. Applications for grants may be accessed on the gsfyb.com website home page
